

IT'S NEVER ONE THING.

"We haven't changed one thing."

This is the first thing we hear when we're working with a plant that's facing a crisis. But the reason they are in crisis is because they haven't changed. Front Line works with the plant to teach them how to change and how to find their RED FLAGS. What's a RED FLAG? They are food safety risks that we must train ourselves and team members to recognize so we can take corrective actions. Protecting our customers and brand name.
